TWO WINNERS of a £1,500 make-over competition to raise money for St Michael's Hospice have emerged 17 years younger.

In a survey in Priory Meadow last Sunday, 100 Christmas shoppers guessed both Toni Hunnisett and Andrea Garrick were 31, instead of the previous average age six weeks ago of 48.

And the stunners celebrated their transformation at a special celebratory event at Bar Blue on Sunday evening with the three experts, Katie Day, Jody Brooks and Jude Price and sponsors who made it possible

Image consultant Katie Day of Creating a Bright Future Ltd, said: "The results are amazing and boy, are they two happy women."

"The prize money for the overall winner is now being split between them - so they both get £75 each to spend on clothes, with me taking them shopping in the new year."

"We had celebratory drinks and a buffet at Bar Blue in Grand Parade on Sunday who provided everything free of charge for us which was such a generous offer. We all had a great time."

"It is so wonderful to see the transformations and their confidence and self-belief increasing daily. I have loved every minute of Toni and Andrea's journey and am happy to do it all again next year."

Toni, who is in fact 46, said the whole experience was fantastic. She said: "With the help of the professionals I have re-evaluated myself inside and out. My self-image has been transformed and I no longer feel guilty about pampering myself. It's been great."

Andrea, who is actually 50, said she would recommend the experience to anyone and found the nutrition advice extremely useful. She said: "It was absolutely marvellous. I embraced it entirely and thoroughly enjoyed the whole thing. My daughter is 24 and has never seen me wearing make-up before and she and my son think it is great."

"I have had over a month of pampering and putting myself first and the experts were really nice. Toni and I shared the overall prize which was the best outcome and I have already booked my free appointment with Jody. It showed me if you pay attention it doesn't have to take very long and it makes a world of difference."

The experts would like to thank the sponsors Bupa Hospital, Richard Wenman Property Services, on Harbour Way, St Leonards, and RAB Property Rental, on Grand Parade.
